THE NEXT APPOINTMENT.

The next apportionment of congressional districts in the United States will be made on the census returns of 1890, and of course, all public men, and, in fact, every intelligent reader, are deeply interested in the result. A large number of prominent men of both political parties have discussed the result in the New York Press, and there is something instructive as well as interesting in the speculations.

The Gazette can do no better than to give the summary of all these opinions and speculations substantially as it appeared in the Press. It may be well by way of preliminary remarks, to say that for some time there has been much discussion in regard to the present size of congress. Some think the body too unwieldy already, while others want it increased to as high as 450 members, and to make room for these additional members to abolish the desks in the house of commons. The summary then goes on:

"There is much that is instructive and interesting in these letters. The table presented below also has a value. The minimum estimate of population is based on the returns of the several state censuses, upon the vote last fall and the general knowledge of the drift or migration of population from one state or one part of the country to the other. It is probably as near correct as any estimate. Some statisticians believe the population of the United States will be 77,000,000 in 1890. The estimate of the census office, on which the rest of the forthcoming census is based, is 65,000,000. The Press estimate does not quite reach this estimate.

"The general idea as obtained from the published letters is to increase the population per congressional district and to lessen rather than increase the number of congressmen. For example, Senator Hawley thinks a population of 190,000 to a congressional district about right, which, if carried out, would not increase representation, but leave it where the Hon. William M. Springer, of Illinois, thinks it should be left at 330. We have, therefore, figured it out on the present basis of representation, says 390 members, giving a population of 192,500 to each district, and also on the basis of 215,000, 220,000, 225,000 respectively. The results may be summarized as follows:

"Here we have an electoral college aggregating respectively 414, 386, 373, 365, 359. It is not necessary for us to present the various combinations, but the one thing seems certain—namely, that the pleasing fiction that the republicans can elect the next president without the doubtful states is likely to do a good deal of harm in the republicans' ranks unless counteracted by the cold facts and figures. In future contests the republicans will undoubtedly stand the best chance, but our plan of campaign must contemplate not only every doubtful state, but two or three wavering states. Fought out in this line the republicans will surely elect a president on the new apportionment, on whatever basis it is made."

Of course everybody who reads good books will regret to hear of the failure of Belford, Clarke & Co., the noted bookmakers of Chicago. Here is a paragraph from a Chicago paper on the failure:

"They have done more to bring books down within the reach of the people than any other publishing house in the country. They were active, enterprising young men, and their business dealings increased more rapidly than capital accumulated. Among their publications were the works of Dickens, Scott, Cooper and Ruskin. They had branch houses in New York and San Francisco and estimated that they had a capacity for the production of 3,000,000 volumes per year.

Cheap books was just the trouble with them. They made them too cheap, not too cheap in quality, but too cheap in price. Why, only think of it, through the efforts of Belford, Clarke & Co., the people were able to buy a good set of Dickens, in fifteen volumes, finely printed and handsomely bound, for four dollars! Thackeray's works were about the same, and so Irving's and other standard works in proportion. No publishing house could stand that kind of business long. It is true that book-making is done remarkably cheap, but for Dickens is too cheap for profit to the publisher or the working people in the printing establishment. After paying all the expenses of getting out such works there was no profit for the maker or the book-seller, and the collapse came as a matter of course.

There are periods of depression in this country when the employment and remuneration of labor are unsatisfactory. There are classes of labor whose condition it is desirable to improve. But as a whole nowhere else is labor so well rewarded as in the United States, nowhere else is it so generally prosperous, nowhere else has it so great opportunities, and nowhere else has it so few sound reasons for complaint.—Omaha Bee.

never think of seeking homes in other countries.

The democratic party is suffering from a protracted and peculiarly terrifying Mahone nightmare. If the little general were as big as a mountain he could not be heavier on the democratic stomach than he does already.—Chicago Tribune.

Whenever the democrats have a hard road to travel they begin to abuse somebody. General Mahone's candidacy for governor verily makes the democrats sick, and the only relief they can find is to abuse him.

KILLED IN A COLLISION.

FIVE PASSENGERS LOSE THEIR LIVES AT CHICAGO.

A Suburban Train Run into a Following Freight—Many Hurt—Various Casualties.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Shortly after 6 o'clock last night a freight engine on the Rock Island road ran into a detached passenger train at a Rock Island suburban passenger train at the eighty-seventh street crossing in South Englewood. Five people were instantly killed, two fatally injured, and several badly wounded, one of whom will probably die. The dead are:

MISS SADIE KELLY of Dummy Junction.

MRS. WARD.

JAMES MCKENZIE of Washington Heights.

FRED HIPPER.

Mrs. CAPT. BROWN of Washington Heights.

The fatally scalded are:

GEORGE MCARTHY, a newsboy of Auburn Park.

ANTON KROSLING of Washington Heights.

The very badly scalded and seriously injured are:

EDWARD SMITH, DANIEL LAWRENCE, G. KLEBE, JOHN TIERNEY, and MICHAEL HAGGERTY, all of Washington Heights.

PARKER HARDEEN, MISS HARDEEN of Tracy avenue.

Miss Clark of Washington Heights, daughter of Mrs. Capt. Brown, who was killed.

The passenger train left Chicago at 5:35 p. m. bound for Elm Island and intermediate points and had stopped at the South Englewood crossing, as is customary. The rear coach, which is for Washington Heights, had been detached from the train and was lying directly in front of the station and about one hundred feet to the rear of the suburban train proper. Immediately following the suburban train from Chicago was a freight, which was signaled to stop by throwing a semaphore across the track.

The freight was going at too great a speed to stop in time to clear the engine, which struck the passenger coach, the occupants of which had no warning of impending danger, sending it with a crash against the rear car of the train just as the detached car went back several feet, when it was again struck by the engine, completely telescoping it and penetrating it as far as the tender.

When the crash came the terror-stricken people within the car attempted to rush to the doors, but before they could their feet and almost immediately afterwards they were hurled into the air and completely demolished.

The crash, which for help were heard above the din of the crashing timber, followed soon afterwards by groans of the poor unfortunates beneath the heap of ruins.

The passenger car was nearly full of human beings at the time it was struck, and it looked as though all must have perished. From out the huge opening made by the engine a number of men, women, and children made their escape, some with faces and hands bathed in blood and others with clothing torn in shreds.

Behind these were the poor unfortunates who were too severely hurt to help themselves, and back of all these were those instantly killed by the collision.

When a thorough search had been completed it was found that two ladies and two gentlemen had been killed outright and a third man was in a dying condition. Six other persons were seriously injured. The latter six unfortunates were hurriedly conveyed to their homes near at hand, while the dying man was taken to the institute of the sisters of mercy. The five dead were conveyed to the Englewood morgue.

Miss Kelly and Mrs. Capt. Brown, both of whom were killed, were sisters. The engineers and fireman jumped from their trains at the time of the accident and have not been seen since.

DAMAGE BY THE CYCLONE.

Houses and Churches at West Jacksonville Demolished by the Storm.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 25.—Reports from various localities in the State indicate that yesterday's storm was a disastrous one to property, although no further loss of life is reported. At West Jacksonville three or four houses were blown down and two churches wrecked from their foundations. A fallow deer was encountered everywhere in the surrounding country, many of the monster moss-hung oaks which have withstood the storms of 100 years being prostrated. Hands full of hospital, made memorable by the epidemic of 1858, was wrecked. The damage by the storm will aggregate $40,000.

Explosion in a Shoe Factory.

ELMHURST, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The three hundred employees of J. Richardson & Co.'s shoe factory were thrown into a panic this morning by an explosion of gas which had leaked into the basement of the building from a street main. Engineer Pierson and a foreman named Keener were very seriously injured. The explosion shook the entire building and blew out all the glass on the east side. Aside from minor bruises suffered by a number of the employees no one but the two men were injured.

—All Souls people will give a supper at the church parlors on Friday evening.

—Badger Council, Royal Arcanum, assembled in regular semi-monthly meeting this evening.

—Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., occupy Odd Fellows hall this evening—regular weekly meeting.

—Olive Branch, Ancient Order of United Workmen, will meet in special session this evening to arrange for a visit to Beloit.

—Mr. John Rice, of No. 204 Othman street, died this morning at his home, from injuries received Monday. Funeral notice to-morrow.

—Washington Camp No. 1, Patriotic Sons of America, assembled in regular weekly meeting this evening—large room in the Court Street M. E. church block.

—In another column will be found the advertisement of M. Hanson & Co., in which they offer some rare bargains in furniture. Now is the time to furnish your houses without expense.

—The delegates chosen by the Wisconsin Congregational Convention, now in session in this city, to represent this state at the National Council to be held in Worcester, Mass., beginning on October 23, and continuing six days, are as follows:—Rev. Judson Titaworth, of Milwaukee, and Rev. H. A. Minor, of Madison.

—The special relief committee appointed by the Board of Supervisors to disburse the soldiers' relief fund, consisting of W. P. Clarke, Simon Smith, and C. E. Bowles, held a bi-monthly meeting in the office of the county clerk this forenoon and awarded to a list of forty-four beneficiaries the sum of $74 for the month of October and November.

—A delegation from Olive Branch Lodge No. 36, Ancient Order United Workmen of this city, will go to Beloit to-morrow (Thursday) evening at 7:20 over the Chicago & Northwestern road. It is expected that about fifty members will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the Beloit lodge. The train will be held until a late hour to bring the party back. They expect, and doubtless will have a big time.

—At 6:45 o'clock last evening an alarm of fire was turned in from box 52, located at the corner of Center and Western avenues, which summoned the fire department to the woolen mills of the New McLean Manufacturing Co. at Monterey. The fire department made the mile and a half run in very quick time, but the fire, which was in the fire proof pickering room, was extinguished by the mill force before the department arrived. Loss nominal, principally by water wetting wool and machinery.

—A pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Taylor at their residence on Prospect avenue in this city last evening, it being the birthday of Mrs. Taylor. The guests in charge of Mrs. John Stanton took entire possession. In the course of the evening a table was spread well filled with the delicacies of the season to which Mr. and Mrs. Taylor was duly invited, and when all were seated Mr. S. B. Kenyon, with his usual and pleasant manner presented in behalf of these assembled to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor a beautiful water set in token of the well wishes and esteem for those assembled, also a beautiful quilt from Mr. and Mrs. R. Angell.

—S. O. Burnham & Co. have received 1,700 copies of music, embracing some of the latest publications in both vocal and instrumental, which they are selling at 10 cents a copy. Call and get a list.

—The Q. G. Z. Z. Club met at the home of Miss Carrie Winkly last evening and passed a very enjoyable hour.

A BOLD TRAIN ROBBERY.

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS SECURED BY THE BANDITS.

A Detroit Alderman Under Arrest—No Clue to the Robbers—The Criminal Record.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 23.—A few minutes before 10 o'clock last night, as the north-bound Santa Fe train was pulling out of Crowley, ten miles south of this city, three men boarded the train and others jumped on the locomotive. The two on the engine placed pistols to the heads of Engineer Monahan and Fireman Cragar, and told them to pull out and stop when told. When two miles from Crowley the engineer was ordered to stop. Then the robbers cut the engine, baggage, mail and express cars from the rest of the train and Monahan pulled half a mile further. A short, fleshy young man and a dark mustache, burly looking fellow got into the express car and ordered the messenger to show them the money. He pointed to a package of Mexican silver. One of the men ripped open a sack and shoveled the silver out of the door, while the other one took the other sacks. They took two packages said to contain $5,000 each, but overlooked three or four money packages for Fort Worth. The short man finally ordered those with him to let the train go. The engineer was then made to couple up and move. The robbers started in a westerly direction. The train reached here at midnight, and a posse of twenty men started in pursuit at once.

HIS HIGH-ROLLING IS ENDED.

Absconder Quale of Burton, Wis., Returning Under Arrest.

PETERSBURG, Pa., Sept. 23.—A Milwaukee (Wis.) detective passed through the city to-day, having in custody a man named James Quale, who absconded from Burton, a small town in the Wisconsin lumber regions, about a year ago, with $50,000 belonging to his employers, and fled to Europe.

Quale was the manager of a large lumber firm and had the implicit confidence of his employers. For a long time whereabouts were unknown, but some weeks ago he was located at a small town in Saxony and a detective was sent after him. Some complications arose over the surrender of Quale, but the fugitive solved the difficulty by agreeing to come back with the officer voluntarily. He has been living a life of dissipation since he left here, but he still had a large amount of the money in his possession. The prisoner professed to be a victim of remorse and to be glad to get back to this country again. He said he expected and was willing to do his punishment for his crime, and his principal regret is for his family. Quale is a good-looking man, apparently about 40 years of age, but his face bears traces of the dissipation he has indulged in since his absence from home.

ARRESTED A DETROIT ALDERMAN.

John H. Lander Indicted for Accepting a Bribe.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 23.—The political circles of Detroit were shaken to their centers when the grand jury returned an indictment in four counts against Alderman John H. Lander. The indictment specifically charges Lander with having received $400 from Peter Hirt for his vote and influence in securing Hirt the position of meat inspector. Hirt, when questioned before the grand jury, denied anything of the kind at first, but finally made a clean breast of it all. The indicted alderman is by far the biggest fish in the aldermanic pool, and his indictment and arrest has caused widespread dismay and consternation among the other aldermen. Lander is wealthy, a member of the best "set," a high rank mason and all, and is generally supposed to have been some one else in receiving the money. He was arrested at noon and promptly obtained bail in $3,000. Rumors are to the effect that Chris Jacob, president of the common council and Alderman Kellogg and Tierney will also be indicted.

AN UNPROVOKED MURDER.

P. J. Schreiber, a Wealthy Minnesota Farmer, Killed by His Nephew.

MOOREHEAD, Minn., Sept. 23.—F. J. Schreiber, the most extensive farmer in Clay county, was brutally murdered last night by his nephew, John F. Schreiber, a young man, 24 years old. The nephew arrived here from the West, where he served in the regular army, and went to his uncle's farm. He acted queerly and seemed to be haunted. While his uncle was overseeing a gang of thrashers, young Schreiber stepped up behind him and drawing a revolver fired two shots at short range, both taking effect in his head and neck, and causing instant death. The murderer then fled in the direction of the city, but was captured. Schreiber when lodged in jail, said he was glad he had killed his uncle. The murdered man was worth $200,000.

An Ex-Supreme Court Judge Suicides.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Morimer M. Southworth, aged 72 years, was found dead in his office here with a bullet in his brain. A letter explained that he was tired of life and had shot himself. He was the first abolitionist in western New York, was district attorney of Niagara county for fifteen years, and was appointed Supreme court judge to fill a vacancy in 1878. He remarried last spring. Domestic troubles are said to have led to his suicide.

No Clue to Hurley's Robber.

HURLEY, Wis., Sept. 23.—The special agents of the United States Express company, accompanied by detectives, have been here three days, and have not discovered a clue to the robbery of the Iron Exchange bank of nearly $10,000 last Friday night. There is little prospect that the guilty parties will be caught or the money recovered. Passengers on all trains leaving here are being carefully watched.

An Athletic Old Man.

RACINE, Wis., Sept. 23.—Saturday night Thomas Cassidy attempted to rob the house of W. H. Lathrop, and was caught in the act by that gentleman. Though Mr. Lathrop is over 70 years old he promptly knocked the burglar down with his cane and held him until the police arrived. This morning Cassidy pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five years at Waupun.

Delegates to the American Congress.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Delegates from Racine, Holmen and Chili to the Congress of American Nations, which is to meet at Washington next month, reached New York this morning by the steamer City of Paris.
